Q3 2026 Business Review

Kaveri Retail Pvt. Ltd. (fictional company used for this project)

BI-Q3-2026, prepared 24 October 2026

1. Summary

This review covers July to September 2026 and the outlook for October 2026. It is prepared by the Business Intelligence team using the AI decision support system.

2. Sales Outlook

Revenue for the next 30 days (2026-10-01 -> 2026-10-30) is forecast at Rs 689.3 lakh, which is +28.1 percent compared with the last 30 days, driven by the festive season. By region: North Rs 233.2 lakh, South Rs 197.4 lakh, West Rs 157.8 lakh, East Rs 100.9 lakh. The forecast model's average monthly error over the last 12 months was 7.9%.

3. Customer Churn

The churn model flags 213 customers as High risk, with Rs 86.1 lakh of annual revenue at risk. The strongest warning signs are recent negative support tickets, the number of tickets, short tenure and falling order counts.

4. Customer Segments

Customers fall into 5 segments. Champions is the most valuable segment with 491 customers contributing 47.8 percent of revenue. Big-ticket buyers: 285 customers, 32.4 percent of revenue. Occasional buyers: 692 customers, 12.4 percent of revenue. Loyal regulars: 415 customers, 6.6 percent of revenue. Slipping away: 237 customers, 0.8 percent of revenue.

5. Support Tickets

The AI classifier routes tickets to the right team with 94% accuracy. Product Quality has the highest rise in negative tickets, from 36% to 39%. 87 high churn-risk customers with recent negative tickets are on the urgent call list, representing Rs 29.2 lakh of revenue at risk.

6. Actions for Q4

Retention team to call every customer on the urgent call list within 1 business day. Operations to review the top complaint themes with courier partners before Diwali. Sales to focus account management on the Big-ticket buyers segment. Support to clear the needs_review queue daily.